FUNERALS OF ONE DAY.

Remains of William D. Roberts Interred in Washburn Street Cemetery. Others Laid at Rest.

The body of the late William D. Roberts was borne from the residence, at 802 South Main avenue, to the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church yesterday afternoon and the Rev. John T. Morris preached the funeral sermon to a large audience. He was assisted in these last sad ministrations for the dead by the Rev. W. E. Morgan and Rev. D. C. Phillips. The St. David's Lodge, True Worthies, were well represented.

FUNERALS.

The funeral services of Helen, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Travis, of 522 North Sumner avenue, were held at the home yesterday afternoon. They were very simple and were attended by many friends of the bereaved. Interment was made in Washburn street cemetery.

The obsequies held over the remains of Mrs. Evan H. Reese occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of D. M. Thomas, 148 South Rebecca avenue. The lady was brought here from her late home in Plymouth, where the preliminary services were held on Tuesday evening. The Rev. J. A. Hagus, of the English Baptist church, officiated. Many friends from distant points up and down the valley were in attendance and many accompanied to this city. The deceased lady's children, Edwin P., Haydn Evan, Harrah, Miriam Ethel and Maria were baptized by the Rev. R. S. Jones prior to the farewell sermon. The following acted as pall-bearers: D. M. Thomas, W. J. Fisher, Thomas Hesse, David and Caradoc Williams, D. M. Thomas, Jr. Among those who attended from out of town were Mrs. H. L. Roberts, of Blyn Mavr Park, Youkers, N. Y.; Miss Elvira Williams and Miss Lizzie Williams, of New Haven, Conn.; all sisters of the deceased. Interment was made in the Washburn street cemetery.

A SMALL ROBBERY.

The fruit stand of Dominick Beato, situated at the corner of West Lackawanna and North Main avenues, was broken into at early hour yesterday morning. Nothing suspicious was noticed by the police officer who passed on his last round about 5:30 and yet when Dominick arrived at his stand a little later he found the door in the rear had been forced and several boxes of cigars and cigarettes and quantities of oranges, bananas and other fruit taken.

NEW PAVEMENT.

From the general conversation and discussion heard among the property owners along Hyde Park avenue, it is evident that the meeting to be held tonight at the Franklin Engine company's quarters to take action about a pavement will be large and enthusiastic. The matter has been under consideration in a general manner for some time and the purpose of the meeting will be to focus things and thus be able to procure definite facts in regard to the cost; desire of property owners as to kind of pavement and like information of a necessary nature. The pavement which it is proposed to lay will extend from Division street to Lafayette otte street, a distance of five regular blocks.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

The fame and ability of A. R. Morse as a mandolinist is well known on this side and it is with pleasure that we note his engagements to teach a recently formed mandolin and guitar club, of Carbonville, the art of playing these delicate instruments. The young men who form the club are W. D. Eaton, Charles Rogers, L. B. Irvin, Fred Van Gorder, M. Tappan, Leon Scott and E. Brokenshire. These gentlemen will meet Mr. Morse at his home on South Bromley avenue, next Friday evening and arrange for their debut as a musical organization.

William Hughes, of this side, is succeeded next Sunday by John F. Moore as the West Side correspondent of the Sunday Free Press.

J. M. Eaton, of Tenth street, was in Avondale on Tuesday on a business trip.

Our laundry stuff collars with soft button holes, Crystal Laundry.

Miss Verna Lewis, of North Rebecca avenue, has returned home after a lengthy visit in New York city.

Mrs. John L. Lewis, of Academy street, is entertaining Mrs. Morris, of Susquehanna street.

Harry Carling, of North Sumner avenue, has returned home from Girardville.

The latest and best styles, Roberts, 126 North Main.

Attorney John R. Edwards was in Wilkes-Barre yesterday upon business. Henry Kresge, of 218 North Hyde Park avenue, was discharged from the West Side hospital yesterday. Mr. Kresge underwent an operation about two weeks ago and recovered so nicely that it was no longer necessary for him to remain at the hospital.

Mrs. John Williams, of Snyder avenue, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Reese B. Davis, of Bellevue street, is slowly improving after a severe attack of influenza.

Dr. E. Y. Harrison, Dentist, Mears Hall, 113 S. Main avenue.

Invitations are out for a dance to be given at St. David's hall, Friday evening, April 3. The Messrs. Harry A. Jenkins, Harry A. Mott, E. H. Clarke and W. J. Welsh, Jr., have the affair in charge.

The Mutual Church society of the Plymouth church met last evening and held one of their usual interesting sessions.

The remains of Newell Vergason, were taken to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot yesterday morning from his late residence on North Rebecca avenue and shipped to Brookline, Susquehanna county, where interment will be made. The body was accompanied by members of the family and several friends.

Miss Laura Hughes and Miss Edna Evans, of this side, will go to Bloomsburg State Normal school on Friday to take the junior examinations with a view of entering the school.

Cholera cut flowers and flower designs at Palmer & McDonalds, 544 Spruce.

Joseph Moore, of the firm of Moore & Shipman, butchers, on North Main avenue, was severely injured in a runaway accident which occurred in Providence yesterday afternoon. His left leg was so badly wrenched as to necessitate the use of crutches and he also suffered injuries about the face and head.

The West Side male party will meet for rehearsal this evening in the basement of St. David's Episcopal church at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is requested by the leader, Lewis Watney.

The police and aldermen of the West Side report almost absolute freedom from any disturbances of a criminal nature. Even a plain drunk being a scarce thing.

The Simpson chapter, Epworth league of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church will provide a treat in the form of an animatroscope exhibition-concert on April 13. The concert will be given at the church and a small admission will be charged. The animatroscope is the latest result of the great Edison inventive genius, being an improvement upon the vitascope.

Mrs. Dickinson was admitted to the hospital yesterday by Dr. M. J. Willlams. An operation will be performed on her Friday.

TOUGH YOUNG MAN CUT.

Fell Through a Window While Trying to Get Into a Restaurant.

A tough young man whose name it is said is known to only the people of his particular tough class dropped into a Lackawanna avenue eating house in a really tough way at 9 o'clock last evening. The eating house is in the basement at 217 Lackawanna avenue and an electric light shines enticingly through a large four-paned window where "best steaks in town," etc., are placed.

The tough young man was intoxicated last evening at the hour mentioned and he wanted something to eat. He attempted to get into the restaurant and succeeded in doing so by tumbling down the nine or eleven steps and plunging his head through the window. Three of the four panes were smashed.

Other damage was a deep cut in the young man's right wrist and several smaller cuts.

DRIVING PARK LEASE.

The Old Resort to Be in New Hands for Three Years.

The use of the Scranton Driving park for three years has been secured by W. A. Rice, of this city. Mr. Rice proposes to place the property in charge of a competent race track and amusement manager, a New England man, and conduct bicycle and horse races there periodically and arrange the portion of the property adjoining the river into a family picnic resort.

Mr. Rice's plans have not been made known in detail. While the stables and track now offer an inducement for the keeping and training of horses there are to be many improvements made in the buildings and roadway.

COUNCILS MEET TONIGHT.

There Will Be a Cleaning Up of Unfinished 1896 Business.

Each branch of councils will meet tonight and attempt to dispose of all the unfinished 1896 business, excepting the appropriation ordinance which has passed the common council, but will be given two readings in the select branch and held for a third and final reading when councils meet Monday morning at noon.

It is possible that Mayor Bailey will submit to common council tonight his promised report on the Kinsey investigation, though that document may not be received before Monday.

ALE AND PORTER BREWERY.

Will Be Conducted at Kingston by Scrantonians.

The Wyoming Valley Brewing company, composed largely of Scrantonians, has been organized, and about May 1 will start an ale and porter brewery at Kingston. The necessary machinery for brewing is now being placed in position.

John M. O'Malley, of this city, is secretary and general manager of the company, and his father, M. J. O'Malley, is also one of the stockholders. Other stockholders are Louis H. Senker, of this city, and Thomas Quigley, of Parsons.

SHIFFER MISSED HIS SHOT.

The Report Was Heard by Patrolman Evans and Arrest Followed.

Frank Shiffer was arrested at 11 o'clock last night by Officer Tom Evans for discharging his arms on the public streets near the corner of Penn avenue and Linden street.

Shiffer fired a shot from a revolver at a dog. The animal was on the 10-foot reservation and was acting as any peevish dog would. Shiffer's shot missed its mark.

He was standing fifty feet from the dog and there were a number of pedestrians on the street at the time. The dog is owned by Dr. P. F. Gunster.

OBITUARY.

John Scott, who for twenty years has been superintendent of the Clark & Shover tobacco factory, died of pneumonia early yesterday morning at his home, 112 Beech street, after one week's illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. A high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Peter's church. The remains will be taken from the house at 9:30 o'clock. Burial will be made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. Mr. Scott was born in Kerry county, Ireland, in 1829 and came to this country five years later. He learned the tobacco business at Albany and was at one time a foreman in Lockhart's cigar factory in New York city. He came to Scranton and entered the employ of Clark & Shover. He is survived by a wife, who was Miss Mary Hackett, of New York city, and six children, Mrs. John Croly, James J., William J., John J., Walter E. and Catherine Scott.

Daniel Leary died at the Soldiers' Home in Erie Monday. The deceased was formerly a resident of South Scranton and the remains were interred at his home, 112 Beech street, from which place the funeral was held yesterday afternoon. The remains were interred in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

Edward Rohling died at his home, on South Washington avenue, Tuesday, after many years of suffering. For the past two years he had not left his bed, and although his sufferings were intense he bore them patiently until the last. He was in the seventies and had spent a large portion of his life on the South Side, being previously in his several illnesses one of its most energetic residents. He is survived by a wife only. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

Gehovieve, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Manley, of 626 Beech street, died last evening at 6:30 o'clock. At the family home the funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

Carrie, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Jones, of 356 North 25th avenue, died yesterday. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence. Interment will be made in Washburn Street cemetery.

The fourth quarterly conference of Providence Methodist Episcopal church was held on Tuesday night, Rev. J. G. Ekman, D. D., was present and occupied the chair. The work of the past year was reviewed and plans made for the future. The report showed the past year had been prosperous in all lines of church work. Over sixty had been received into the church and $300 on the church fund had been provided for. Of this amount the Ladies' Aid society contributed $75. This society had also provided furniture for the parsonage. The missionary cause will receive $60 more than last year. The presiding elder was requested by a unanimous vote to retain the pastor, Rev. William Edgerton, for another year.

Dr. W. W. Jenkins will tomorrow move his family and household effects to Pockville, where he is going to practice medicine. During his residence here the doctor has made hosts of friends who will very much regret his departure.

An entertaining evening of public attention and patronage is that to be held April 6 in St. Mary's hall under the auspices of St. Joseph's Young Men's Literary and Benevolent society for the literary and dramatic efforts of the late Thomas Flood, J. J. Salmon, who has charge of the entertainment, has offered to secure the appearance of excellent talent for the occasion.

The funeral of George W. Wilber occurred yesterday afternoon from his late home, at Weston Place. The house was thronged with friends of the deceased, by whom he was held in high esteem. Rev. George E. Guild, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered a short but impressive sermon in which he referred to the deceased as a citizen of sterling qualities who endeared himself to those he came in contact with. The funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. E. S. Moore and the remains were conveyed to Dunmore cemetery by the funeral home of L. L. Ladd.

The funeral of Ezra Griffin post, Grand Army of the Republic, held the simple burial ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic, at the grave of the late comrade.

A large number of people of this part of the city attended the funeral of Mrs. Evan H. Reese, formerly of this place, but later of Plymouth. The funeral services were conducted at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. M. Thomas, on the West Side.

Mrs. Marshall is seriously ill at her home, on Wayne avenue.

John H. Evans, of Bryk avenue, who has been suffering some time with his eyes, left yesterday for Philadelphia, where he will enter an hospital for treatment.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shaffer is seriously ill.

Mrs. Thomas B. Williams, of Wayne avenue, is ill.

The funeral of Hubert Naughton yesterday afternoon was largely attended by friends of the deceased. Funeral services were conducted at the Holy Trinity church, where a mass was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

John Brady is quite ill at his home, on Keyser avenue.

Rev. J. M. Prosser, pastor of the Primitive Methodist church of East Market street, returned yesterday from Morristown, where he has been visiting relatives.

While engaged in making necessary improvements about the house Tuesday, John Markey, an aged man residing on West Market street, sustained a fracture of the leg. The member having been fractured previously makes it very distressing to the old gentleman and the injury is made more serious by the fact that Mr. Markey is well advanced in years.

SOUTH SIDE.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church were delightedly entertained by Miss Maude Goddard at their meeting at her home, on Cedar avenue, yesterday afternoon. The James Connell lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, met in Freshman hall, on Wednesday evening. Choice cut flowers and flower designs at Palmer & McDonalds, 544 Spruce. MINOOKA.

This town appears to be a Mecca for fakirs. Yesterday afternoon an unknown, ill-tongued Demonstines, who bore unmistakable evidence of hardship, strolled into town and entertained a good sized crowd at the corner of the street on Prohibition. The speech was interspersed with vocal numbers, and the Neal Dow impersonator thought that he had made a big hit until the fact was made known when the response was far from generous.

O. R. Pich, of Square Top, was a visitor in town yesterday.

The Greenwood No. 1 colliery will resume operations today after five days' idleness.

WOOLSEY DIVORCE CASE.

Rehearing Granted on the Matter of Counsel Fees and Alimony.

Judge Archbold yesterday granted a motion for a rehearing in the proceedings for alimony and counsel fees in the divorce case of James Woolsey against Alice Woolsey.

The rehearing was granted on the strength of Mr. Woolsey's affidavit that the man whom Mrs. Woolsey accompanied to Philadelphia, N. Y., as his wife, was a detective, he, the husband, had no knowledge of it and it was not done at his connivance.

SLOCUM'S ESCAPE.

How near General Slocum came once to arrest as a common swindler will bear telling; for nobody enjoyed the incident less than Slocum himself. He and General McMahon were on their way home to New York from an inspection of the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O., and stopped in Philadelphia for breakfast. While waiting at the station for the signal to board their special car, McMahon observed a man whom he thought he recognized at an acquaintance, and, being of a social tact, approached him and shook hands cordially, saying: "How do you do, Mr. Bradford."

"Of New York, if I remember," continued McMahon, affably.

"No, Mr. Bryan," responded the stranger.

"Ah, yes; of Bryn Mawr. I had forgotten. Kind to see you. When did you get to town?"

Just then Slocum came up. He had caught the name and recollected a Bradford, who had served in his command during the war. "Why, hello!" he exclaimed, with effusion, "delighted to see you. My name is Slocum, you're Bradford, of Bryn Mawr. Know you from school, don't you?"

Bradford, meanwhile, had edged toward a policeman at the depot. "I can't say," Mr. Slocum said, "I remember you or your friend," said he, "and I don't propose to join you in any kind of a game this morning. The fact is, I know you both to be confidence operators from the first moment I saw you."

The policeman, who had evidently caught on, made a grab for the two general, who made a simultaneous rush for the special car. It was just about moving off, as they scrambled aboard the policeman dashed for the telegraph office, but the car made no stop within the jurisdiction of the Philadelphia police, and the fugitives escaped.—Kate Field's Washington.
